

Randolph Jones represents the Commonwealth of Virginia on the Park Advisory Commission.

Since 2002 he has been the chief executive officer of RYKNOWS, a consulting practice that creates solutions for propelling revenue and earnings growth. For several decades, he has operated at senior management levels largely in the manufacture and distribution of medical devices and in the staffing of healthcare facilities. Throughout his career, he has been deeply involved in strategic planning and implementation; innovative approaches have always caught his attention. Jones has a B.A. in English from Georgetown University. Jones has also served on a variety of boards both of for profit and nonprofit organizations. He and his wife, Susan, live at historic Rosemont Manor in Berryville.
